Post Office Destroyed

The town of Blainmore suffered from another rather serious conflagration on Saturday morning last, when the fiery elements destroyed Lewis & Burrows' post-office, the offices of Messrs. Trono, Pazel and Lyon, and the post office.

The fire originated in the south-west corner of the post-room, following a terrific explosion, which could be heard practically all over the town, and which caused the flames to spread rapidly through the large building and into the adjoining buildings. An Italian citizen was the first to notice the flames and raise the cry of "fire." Mayor Lyon was awakened by the sound of the explosion, and in a few seconds noticed the reflection of the flames and immediately rushed to the school building where he rang out the emergency call. Volunteers with three sets of ladders were quickly on the scene and three great streams of water were soon brought into effect on the burning elements, which, but for this timely aid, would have gained such headway that the destruction of the eastern half of the town seemed imminent. However, the flames were confined to the buildings in which the fire had started, and so complete and effective was the work of the firefighters that the outer walls of a building not two feet away were not even scorched.

Considerable of the mail matter as well as the safe and some of the fixtures, but practically all the mail which had been distributed into boxes the night previous was destroyed. Many files containing receipts and records in connection with the institution were also destroyed.

Considerable of the furniture and fixtures of the adjoining building were gotten out before the flames had gained a determined hold on these places.

The explosion which preceded the fire seemed to have occurred in the post room, a short distance from a heating stove, and had such force as to break through the wall leading to Mr. Lyon's office, there upsetting a table and other materials over the floor. The cause of the explosion can hardly be determined, but it is generally believed to have been the work of some outside agency.

The postroom building was owned by Mar On, a Chinaman, and was valued at upwards of $2000, on which but $1500 insurance was carried. Lewis & Burrows carried some insurance on their equipment, which included a large bowling alley, three or four large billiard tables, barbers' chairs and utensils, etc.

The postoffice building was owned by H. E. Lyon, and we understand was partially covered by insurance.

Every credit is due the skill of the firemen in having successfully confined the fire to such a small area, for at first few people held out any hope for the saving at least that block between Seventh and Eighth Avenues.

The fire started about 4:30 a.m., and the all-out signal was rung in about 7 o'clock.

E. L. Crane, who had been at Fernie to assist Diener's mail train on its aerial flight, returned to town on Saturday last.

In the absence of Rev. W. H. Muncester, on Sunday last, the Presbyterian pulpit was occupied both morning and evening by Rev. James Lang, of Passburg.

The Women's Guild of the Presbyterian church met in the Mission Hall on Wednesday of this week. The meetings are now being held weekly.

The Kaiser's Despair

(From our Special Correspondent in Berlin.)

It is rumored in Germany that the Kaiser, who now realises that his war is up, is accordingly making his will, revoking all wills made heretofore.

This is THE LAST WILL, and TESTAMENT of me, WILLHELM, the emperor and ruler of the German Empire, recognising that I am fully and against it, and expecting to meet with a violent death at any minute in the hands of brave Johnny Bull, or the Italy Cuckoo, hereby make my last Will and Testament:

1. I appoint the Emperor of Austria to be my sole executor (by kind permission of the allies).

2. I give and bequeath to France the territories of Alsace and Lorraine (as this is only a case of returning stolen property, I don't deserve any credit for it, and am not likely to get it either.)

3. To Russia I give Turkey, for the Tsar's Christmas dinner.

4. To Belgium I should like to give all the black cows, black eyes and broken bones, that she presented me with when I fully repaid on her territory.

5. To Admiral Deltour, I give my dreadnaughts, submarines, torpedo-boat destroyers and fleet of finkers (scavenger boats) which I have so much enjoyed to have. He's bound to hang them in the end, so this is only an anticipatory event.

6. To John Bull I give what's left of my army, as his General French seems so handy at turning my men into sausage meat, I suppose he means to finish the job with his kitchener, the champion German sausage-cooker.

7. To the British Museum I leave my famous moustache, souvenir of the greatest warrior in this or any other age.

8. To Mrs. Frankfort and the wild women I leave my moustache. They'll find it useful, no doubt, when they remove their militant noses.

9. To Sir Ernest Shackleton I leave the Pole. I've been up to it so long that I regard it as my own property.

(Signed)
H.H.M. Wilhelm, G.E.
Lord of the land, sea and air.

(Not forgetting the sausage and beer.)

Signed by the above named Wilhelm on his last will in the presence of my witnesses and before the presence of the same time, who in the presence, and in the presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.

(Signed) Baron von Plessen, Grand von Munichgüter.

Patriotic Society Formed at Bellevue

A large and representative gathering convened in the vacant store opposite the Bellevue hotel on Tuesday evening to discuss the formation of some association to raise funds and collect clothing for the Red Cross and Belgian Relief.

After a few minutes' discussion, it was decided to form the Bellevue Patriotic Society, with W. P. Williams as chairman, and A. J. Kelly as secretary.

Many and varied were the suggestions and questions asked during the evening. The ladies being particularly to the regarding a head branch of the Red Cross Society, this meeting decided should be left to the ladies, and it seems altogether likely that they will get long shortly.

An executive composed of Messrs. Hallworth, Evans and Williams, and Mr. T. M. Barnett (lucky man), was selected. All inquiries will be transacted by the executive and the executive.

How the War Started

(By Matt)

Well, you see, food was scarce and Anglo-Austria Hungary that Germany said "I'll be back." So he went to France to get a piece of France, but being tripped up by Belgium, slipped on some grease, fell down, pretty near broke up the China and got in touch so that France spoke up with India-gang and of course John Bull'd his way in and it is altogether likely that in the long run all the nations will sit down quietly and have a nice little feed of Turkey.

Dr. Moore and C. W. Johnston, of Bellevue, were Blainmore visitors on Thursday afternoon.

A NIGHT OF TERROR

Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the home to relieve it. Many mothers have saved nights of sleep in this situation. A little throat lozenge will enable you to avoid all this. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand. For sale by all dealers.

Hallowey Happenings

Hallowey passed away quietly in Cowley. He, ha!

We understand that some more of our town boys will leave soon for the front.

D. R. McIvor has returned from the east, his mother having somewhat improved.

Ted Baines met with a rather painful accident last week, which confines him to his house.

Rumor has it that Bobby Burns will be in Cowley soon, to take a hand with some of our pugilists.

Messrs. Peel, Elton, White and Bennett spent the better part of last week in Macleod, sitting on the jury.

Mr. Biddell has returned home after spending the bigger part of the summer in Calgary at his mother's.

The Cowley readers of The Enquirer have been looking forward with interest to this "series of writings on temperance" by Mr. L. H. Putnam. What's the matter? We hope Mr. Putnam is not ill! The subject is such as might affect anyone.

A terrible wind storm prevailed in Cowley on Saturday night, which turned things upside down in general. Huggies were lifted up on buildings, water tanks sent out on the prairie, gates were visiting neighbors, and many other things changed places.

The war still continues, and the ladies still work, clothing both old and new coming in, and the ladies are very thankful to those who are helping so well. They have collected close to $200.00 and a store of clothing, and yet the good work continues, and anyone still wishing to help on the good work has only to hand in their contribution to the secretary of the Ladies' Institute and it will be attended promptly. Note what you want is applied to the ladies at the front of the Belgian Relief Fund.

A nephew of King George has been killed in battle, this being the first of the royalty to fall. Recatives are going into mourning only for three weeks, after which they will carry into effect the mourning made at the commencement of the war, that none should go into deep mourning for any who fell in battle other than wear a band of white ribbon about the left arm. It was first spoken of by Queen Mary, as so many of the poor of England copy from the royalty, and it would be a saving of money as well as showing to the nation that they could be loyal by not mourning for those who lost their lives for the Empire.

Bellevue Happenings

A movement is on foot to form a rifle corps locally, but we believe the government cannot supply the necessary rifles.

Mrs. Neill, mother of Mrs. J. B. Ridd, has been visiting at the Southern hotel for the past few days and returned to Lethbridge on Tuesday.

William Randall, father of our local barber, B. F. Randall, is spending a few weeks here. Mr. Randall is a resident of France, Minnesota, and is quite taken up with Bellevue.

Lieutenant Inspector Whitaker spent Wednesday in town sizing up the hotels.

The Patriotic society is grateful to Dave Walker (Wee Scotty), our local painter, for the splendid signs painted on the society's headquarters.

BLAIRMORE, ALBERTA

We notice that a meeting of the Bellevue commission to consider the application of J. B. Ridd for a license for the Southern hotel, and Mike Ridd for a license for the Blairmore, will be held in Macleod on November 25th.

A previously unknown window has been unearthed in the person of Mr. E. Mitchell, of Nottingham, Kang. We have it on our own authority that he thought nothing of lifting 70 pounds when twelve years old. How much can you lift now, E.T.

"Mac's Place" is the latest addition to our town. E. R. Mackenzie has taken over the cigar stand in Randall's pool-room, and will open up the end of this week as a light lunch counter, along the lines of Ingram's in Fernie. Coffee (percolated), sandwiches, cakes, pies, fruits, etc., will be served at nominal rates, and a full line of candies and cigars will be on hand at all times.

Yanto Evans, who left for Custer last week, blew back on Monday night. His remarkable Custer coal mines are rather so elaborate for publication, but from what we gather conditions up there are awful, 25 to 40 cent a day and a stone of doing well, 9 inches of water to work in and no wash-house. Jack Crawford and Jack Hamilton are up there with one object in view—to get back to Bellevue.

Frank Happenings

Rev. Mr. Hart, of Hillcrest, was a visitor here on Tuesday last.

Mr. T. Bradshaw, of Hillcrest, was a visitor here on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McKinnon were visitors to Coleman on Wednesday.

Miss Ada Allison, of Bellevue, was visiting friends in town on Sunday last.

Mr. Boyes, of Pincher Creek, has moved his family down, and will reside here in future.

Frank's basketball team slipped it over the Bellevueites on Thursday in a score of 26 to 17.

Mrs. D. S. Howe is at Pincher Creek this week, on business in connection with the Eastern Star.

Rev. Mr. Cook, of Bellevue, was in town on Tuesday evening, and refereed the basketball game.

Mr. Howe received another fine shipment of meats this week, fresh from the slaughter house.

H. T. Lloyd was a business visitor here on Wednesday, accompanied by Mr. Berry, of the General Electric Co.

Mr. Taylor, representing a boiler insurance firm, was in town on Monday, inspecting boilers in the local power plant.

Several of Frank's dancing artists are getting their costumes ready for the masquerade ball at Bellevue on Monday next.

Walter Scott, of Bellevue, was down on Tuesday measuring up Captain Marsh's recruits in the hope of arranging a game for the near future.

Several pranks were pulled off in town on Hallowe'en night. Gates were pulled off and carried away, wagons were run away from their regular stalling places, and Mr. See's car travelled as far as the Sanatorium. But alas, Sunday morning saw the brave champions pulling that car home again with the assistance of a horse. Too bad that somebody should have let the cat out of the bag!

Marsh's recruits lined up in front of the Frank-Star basketball team on Tuesday evening. Although the recruits expected defeat, they thoroughly surprised the star team. The recruits had six penalties in the first ten minutes, but Paton failed to find the net. The recruits then played Shorpy in centre, who succeeded in scoring their first goal. Twenty recruits found the recruits led by 7 to 5. In the second twenty the recruits put it all over the "stars," but failed to make use of the opportunities afforded by the penalties, and the game ended in a draw, "stars"—12 to 11. The recruits certainly won on merit, but points count.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the estate of Charles Dray, of the Town of Blairmore, in the Province of Alberta, Public Trustee, has been assigned to me by his estate and effects and I am now in possession of the same under the Assignments Act, Chapter 6 of the Statutes of Alberta.

A meeting of the creditors of the said Charles Dray will be held at the office of L. H. Putnam, Solicitor, Blairmore, on Saturday, the 14th day of November, 1914, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and such creditors are hereby notified to attend thereat, either in person or by representative.

Every creditor claiming to rank on the estate assigned is required to deliver or send proof of his claim, in writing, to the assignee, at the office of L. H. Putnam, Solicitor, at Blairmore, on or before the 25th day of November, 1914, full particulars of his claim verified by statutory declaration, and such vouchers as the case of the claimant may require, he holds any security for his claim or for any part thereof, and putting specified value on such security according to the provisions of the said Act.

To entitle any creditor to vote, his claim must be filed, as aforesaid, on or before the date of said meeting.

And notice is hereby given that after the said 25th day of November, 1914, I shall proceed to distribute the said estate according to law, having regard only to the claims of which I shall have notice at the time of such distribution.

DATED AT BLAIRMORE, Alberta, this 25th day of October, 1914.

L. H. PUTNAM, Assignee.

J. F. GILLIS, Blairmore, Solicitor for the Assignee.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND CLAIMANTS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons having claims upon the estate of the above named Melchior Plamont, who died on the 25th day of July A.D. 1914, are required to file with The Imperial Canadian Trust Company, Calgary, Alberta, by the 21st day of November A.D. 1914, a full statement duly verified of their claims and of any securities held by them, and that after that date the Administrator will distribute the assets of the deceased among the creditors entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which there has been no notice or which have been brought to their knowledge.

DATED this 21st day of October, A.D. 1914, at Lethbridge, Alberta.

H. OSTLUND, Lethbridge, Alberta, Solicitor for the Administrator, The Imperial Canadian Trust Co., Calgary, Alberta.

OF LOCAL AND GENERAL INTEREST

Canada's patriotic fund now amounts to over $500,000.

The Germans added casualties totalling upwards of 420,000.

Licence Inspector Whitaker was up from Pincher Creek on Tuesday.

Michel Rose is applying for a wholesale liquor licence for Blairmore.

A whist club was organized at the Alberta hotel last Thursday night.

The regular meeting of the council will be held next Monday night.

Mrs. Kidd's maternity home, Box 95, Phone 161. Wedding cakes decorated.

A German submarine sank the old British cruiser Harker on November 1st.

The official inspector of the Union Bank of Canada was in town on Tuesday.

Detective will secretly investigate your business or family troubles—Address E. R. Huget.

B. F. Munley, chief draughtsman for the Alberta government telephones, is shortly to join that noble army of besetters.

The deer season opened on Monday. We learn that the animals are plentiful and we expect soon to see some splendid trophies landed.

It is estimated that over two million men are either wounded, killed or missing as the result of the first eleven weeks of the war.

A meeting of the district court will be held in Blairmore on December 8th, and not November 9th as appeared in our issue last week.

Next Sunday will be observed as temperance Sunday throughout the province, and appropriate services will be conducted in all churches.

Mr. N. A. G. Pugh, who spent last week in town, went to Pincher Creek on Friday, and from there visited his ranch at Mountain Hill.

E. M. Brown will in future be stationed on the cap of one of the big smokestacks of the cement plant, where he will guard against the invasion of the enemy's troops with a Colt's automatic one-shooter.

The Blairmore quadrille club was organized at the opera house on Monday night, and the first dance under its auspices took place immediately following its organization. There was a large attendance, and the club has started out with a big membership.

During the early stages of the fire on Saturday morning, several high-charged electric wires were down in every reach of the public, and serious consequences were probably averted by the presence of mind of Engineer Arthur Shearer, of the cement plant, who immediately cut off the current.

The Hallows' programme was exceedingly interesting for the young and old alike, and until a late hour mysterious occurrences took place. "We have done those things which we ought not to have done, and have left undone thousands of things which we should have done, yet there is some cause to glory in."

The Methodist Church has sent to Sir Robert Borden a long protest against the order of General Alderson authorizing a wet canteen for the Canadian troops. The message of protest reminds the prime minister that Russia has forbidden vodka and France abstains for the army, and in asking that Alderson's order be withdrawn questions the moral right of the general to authorize the canteen in the face of the practice of the Canadian militia department, and contrary to Canadian public opinion and the tacit understanding with Canadian nobility.

Homestead Inspector Scott was in town on Tuesday.

D. J. Campbell, ex-sheriff, of Macleod, was in town on Tuesday.

Const. Stuckey arrived from Macleod on Monday as an addition to the local police squad.

W. C. & Hobbick was at Macleod on Sunday, where he attended the funeral of Mr. Macleod.

Constable Lewis journeyed to Macleod on Saturday night in charge of a German prisoner.

We understand that developments at Coleman mine have been temporarily suspended for a few days.

A Japanese from Cranbrook, who was accused of the murder of another, was acquitted in the P. C. courts last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Putnam returned from Macleod, where the former had been attending the court sessions.

Immediately after the alarm of fire was made on Saturday morning, that famous "McLaughlin" barked off to other regions.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Guild intend holding a tea and sale of work on December 3rd, announcement of which will be made later.

Many false rumors are in circulation regarding the closing of the mines and other industrial enterprises for the winter months.

A local young lady who on Saturday night dressed up to represent Jack Johnson, the pugilist, was so complete in her impersonation that she was arrested as a prisoner of war.

Out of the ruins left by Saturday morning's fire, J. P. Hunter extracted an envelope containing an Orangeman's scarlet sash. Neither the envelope nor its contents were damaged.

The last will and testament of his late wife and will be found in this issue. His Imaginary Highness asked us not to sandwich the obituary, so we use it in complete form.

Several of our local ladies and gents are preparing themselves for the big masquerade ball to be held at Blairmore next Monday night, and they are determined to land one or more of the beautiful prizes offered.

Our hockey enthusiasts are agitating for the creation of a skating rink for the approaching season, while the school boys are wondering if steps will be taken to replace the miniature bathing room recently destroyed by fire.

James Haddad, of Fernie, who left several months ago on a visit to his home in Assyria, has arrived in New York, accompanied by his uncle, having escaped service in the Turkish army by means of forged passports which they bribed officials into giving them.

Arrangements have been completed for the location of the post office in the block owned by the Leithbridge Brewing & Malting Co., at the corner of Seventh Avenue and Victoria Street, where the rear end of the building is being partitioned off and rearranged.

Rev. W. H. Muncester visited Dry Creek last Sunday afternoon and raised the balance of revenue needed for the support of the missionary there during the summer. He also arranged for fortnightly services to be held through the winter. Mr. Muncester preached at Pincher Creek in the evening.

A mysterious regiment, supposedly Germans and Austrians, were seen climbing up the peaks of Turtle Mountain on Wednesday night, probably with intention of blowing up the heavens. Somebody started out on their trail, but returned, feeling that such a tribe should never be halted on a heavenly course. Each carried a lighter lantern, a canteen of lager beer and one of Heineken's beluga appropos.

D. A. Sinclair was in Calgary this week consulting an oculist.

The British admiralty has closed the North Sea to neutral shipping.

Mr. W. H. Howe returned last week from Fairbairn, Alta., where he had been employed for several months.

James William Gresham, of Blairmore, has been appointed a commissioner for neglected children.

R. J. Ritchie-Patterson and B. C. Gillan, of the W. A. Henderson Co., Leithbridge, are in town attending the books.

Edmund Disney, of Coleman, and A. B. Macdonald, of Macleod, have been appointed commissioners for neglected children.

The two Snyder children were taken to Leithbridge Thursday morning in care of Mrs. E. Kidd, who will place them in the government home.

On October the 21st, after several postponements on account of the weather, the school held its first field day. The weather man seemed determined not to give us any show, but after we had started the sports the wind came in from the north and made the day cold and miserable. In spite of this, however, the various events were contested with great enthusiasm by the children. Our third to be registered in the week by the school of the Pass could not more generally participate; but in this the weather was largely to blame. We would like, however, to say a good word for Mr. Baker, of the Frank

Veteran's Jewel For Robert Niven

The weekly lodge meeting of the Leithbridge Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., held on Oct. 30, was the scene of an interesting ceremony, when Robert Niven, of Frank, Alta., a former resident of Leithbridge, and Past Grand of the order, was presented with an address and veteran's jewel, denoting 26 years of Oddfellowship.

The presentation was made on behalf of the lodge by Past Grand J. H. Hardy, himself a veteran of a year and a half.

After the ceremony the members and visitors to the number of about 50 sat down to supper, after which speeches and songs were the order until a late hour.

The following is the address which accompanied the jewel:

Bro. Robert Niven, Past Grand, of the Leithbridge Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., we wish to take this opportunity to express to you our appreciation of the work which you have done for this lodge.

You have always been ready to do everything in your power to promote the welfare of this lodge and of the order, and you have exemplified the principles which are the corner stones of our beloved order. It is with a great deal of pleasure that we look back over the many pleasant evenings which you have spent with us during the twenty-five years of your membership. As a small token of our appreciation we would ask you to accept this jewel and earnestly hope that you will have the opportunity of wearing it on many occasions.

Bro. Niven, it affords me much pleasure to present you with this jewel, which we hope and trust that you will be wearing many years to come in the good work of Oddfellowship, and that all these years may be years of happiness and prosperity.

Signed on behalf of Leithbridge Lodge No. 2.

E. Thibault, N. G.
T. A. Marlow, R. S.

A man's animosity toward a political opponent is sometimes so bitter that it does not even when the opponent is dead.

A gentleman who had secured a position suddenly came to the end of a long and useful life. On the day of the funeral one of the strong political enemies of the deceased was asked:

"Are you going to attend Mr. —'s funeral today?"

"No," responded the distinguished gentleman, deliberately. "I wish you to understand I heartily approve of it."

The school, who sent up a team for the football match. The boys were very small, but they played a plucky game and gave the big boys of the Blairmore school all the work they wished for in order to win. We hope that the field day may become an annual event, participated in by all the schools around.

J. W. VERGE, Principal.
